Antech-Limoux, Limoux (Languedoc)

www.antech-limoux.com

The sparkling wine maker Antech (pronounced ahn-tesh) is located between the medieval city of Carcassonne and the Pyrenees. They have been making wine on their estate for six generations. Vineyards are south facing and are located at 400 meters above sea level. Soils are rocky and are primarily composed of clay and limestone. The Limoux zone is famous for AOC Blanquette di Limoux, a sparkling wine made primarily from the Mauzac grape variety. The name Blanquette is Occitan and comes from the white colour of the leaves in the early days that the vines leaf out. For over a decade Antech has been focused on sustainable viticulture and are signatories of the Charter for the Progress of Sustainable Agricultural Development for Languedoc-Roussillon

Domaine de Begude, Limoux (Languedoc)

www.domainebegude.com

Domaine Begude is a 25 hectare family owned estate set high in the foothills of the Pyrenees in the Limoux region of the Languedoc near Carcassonne. Vineyards were established here in the late 16th century and has always enjoyed an excellent reputation for success due to great terroir. The vineyards have been organically farmed for 25 years and further attention is garnered from biodynamic practices particularly during planting, pruning & harvesting. The winery is a modern facility located within 5 minutes of all the estate's vineyards. At Begude, winemaking intervention is minimized to permit the maximum expression of the chardonnay grape.

Bodegas Lagarde - Lujan de Cuyo, (Mendoza) Argentina

www.lagarde.com.ar

Lagarde is a traditional, artisanal winery founded in 1897. It is located in the upper Mendoza River region, an area considered to be a premium zone for wine production. The vineyards contain alluvial clay, sand and rock, which are well suited to drainage. Vine roots grow deep to source hydration for the plants. Winemaking style leans toward expression of their land, soil and climate.

Finca Urquiza - (Valle de Uco), Argentina<http://www.fincaurquiza.com/>

This winery named for Urquiza, an Argentine hero, was created by the manager from the well known winery Santa Ana. Finca Urquiza has substantial holdings in the Uco Valley positioned at 1100 metres high up against the backdrop of the Andes. Perfectly structured Malbec and Cabernet from Argentina's best region for these grapes, Mendoza. The Malbec is deep purple in colour with aromas of ripe blackberry and blueberries as well as hints of cocoa and leather. It's dry, medium full-bodied with fine fruit flavours. Warm and well-structured with firm tannins and balanced acidity. The Cabernet has warm fruit tones of cherry and plum with good earth balance.

Blasted Church - (Okanogan Valley), British Columbia, Canada

www.blastedchurch.com

Blasted Church is located on a picturesque lakeside bench north of Okanagan Falls. The view from the winery of the lake and surrounding mountains is indeed heavenly, not to mention the excellent conditions for grape growing with the cooling breezes and moderating effects of the Lake Skaha. Blast Church is named after the 1929 explosion of a church located in a mining camp to move it to Okanagan Falls. After the explosion, the church was successfully moved to OK Falls where it stands today. From Hatfield's Fuse, named for the man who lit a fuse under a certain church, a blend of Gewürztraminer, Chardonnay, Pinot Grips, Optima, Ehrenfelser and Pinot Blanc, to its 100% Syrah, a grape with which the Okanagan Valley is making its mark, these wines are VQA and produced in limited quantities for heavenly results. Vineland Estates (Niagara Peninsula),
Vineland, Ontariowww.vineland.com

Vineland Estates Winery is located in the hamlet of Vineland, near Niagara on the Lake. The winery sits against the backdrop of “the bench”. This is a part of the geological formation known as the Niagara Escarpment. This location affords scenic views across rolling vineyards to Lake Ontario as well as soil types and micro-climates that contribute to the characteristics of their wines. The estate covers 75 acres and was planted by Hermann Weis, of St. Urbans Hof fame, of the Mosel region in Germany. In 1992 the winery was purchased by the deGasparis family. Vineland now has over 350 acres planted out with varietals such as: Riesling, Pinot Gris, Pinot Blanc, Chardonnay and Sauvignon Blanc. The red varietals include Merlot, Pinot Noir and Pinot Meunier, as well as Cabernet Franc and Cabernet Sauvignon.

Chateau de Jau - Cases de Pène
(Roussillon), France

www.chateaudejau.com

Chateau de Jau is situated in the heart of the Agly Valley in the Roussillon back country about 20 km from Perpignan. The Chateau itself dates back to its founding by Cisterian monks in the 12th century. Today it is owned by the Daure family and the estate has 134 hectares under vine and 500 hectares of garrigue in the foothills of the Corbières. The Syrah, Mourvèdre, Cabernet, Muscat, Vermentino (Rolle) and Grenache (red and white) vines are influenced by the nearby Mediterranean and cool breezes from the north as well as their specific soil composition.

Stephane Vedeau - Chateauneuf-du-Pape
(Rhône Valley), France

<http://www.vertuvin.com/en/producers.shtml>

Stephane Vedeau is an agri-scientist turned winemaker and winery owner. In the library of wine stories, this is a spirited and truly sincere version. Mr. Vedeau is fervently dedicated to making clean, terroir expressive wines and uses techniques that ensure an integrated oak profile in the wines. This includes his own trips to the best forests of France to select oak and a close relationship with his Cooper. For instance he has incorporated his own toasting procedure for the barrels complete with tools of his own design!

Stephane is a self confessed fanatic for Grenache and is a lover of Syrah. His quest is to provide an expression of flavour that is true to varietal and place. This has led him to grow grapes in extremely high elevation vineyards in both of the Rhones, north and south. It has even propelled him to purchase vineyards and a winery in Spain that are home to vineyard elevations that are unavailable in France. But this is another story.

Il Molino di Grace, Panzano, (Tuscany) www.ilmolinodigrace.it Organic practices

Located at the top of the famous Panzano cru in Chianti Classico, south of Greve, Il Molino di Grace is named after an historic windmill located at the front of the property on the old road to Gaiole. Although the modern new winery started in 1999 the vineyards have been fruitful for over 350 years. The vineyard's yield is no longer sold to local wineries as it was in the past but is now carefully managed to produce optimal fruit for their range of Chianti Classico and Sangiovese based wines.

The estate is widely regarded as one of the top wineries in the Chianti Classico zone thanks to the efforts of the dedicated and enthusiastic staff and owners. Frank and Tim Grace's commitment to quality is all encompassing and this is evidenced in every corner of the land and winemaking facility. The winery also employs Franco Bernabei as winemaking consultant.

Edward Sellers Winery -, Templeton Gap, (Paso Robles), California

www.edwardsellers.com

This winery has 30 acres of vines on the west side of Paso Robles in the area of the Templeton Gap. The soil is rich in calcareous materials and the microclimate is influenced by the Santa Lucia Coastal Mountain Range and the Pacific Ocean. There is a terrific range of temperatures between day and night during the grape growing season with differences of 40° and here they grow classic Rhone varieties which are deemed “handmade American Rhone Style wines” and the wines really speak their own language.
